

Santeo 101 is an 80 acre commercial project located on the Salt River Pima Maricopa Indian Community, Arizona. The landscape design was inspired by the characteristically linear site, much like that of a river corridor. The historic agricultural use of this land and the significance of the river as a life source for that use was a defining element of the design. The theme incorporates character area and landscape zones, including natural 'river' walkways, fences that mimic native ocotillo, and row plantings reminiscent of the early farms.

Project Information

- 80 Acres
- Culturally significant landscape design
- Public and semi-public courtyards
- Unique design elements

LVA's responsibilities included the conceptual development plan, site plan, final presentation graphics, landscape and irrigation improvement construction documents, landscape theming, hardscape and site design elements.

